Loudspeakers: State issues guidelines

Bengaluru, May 12 (Agencies)- The State Government has asked all those wishing to use loudspeakers to obtain permission within 15 days. Loudspeakers without permission from designated authorities would be removed.

A circular issued in Bengaluru on Tuesday also cited the decibel levels for residential, commercial and industrial areas as per the Noise Pollution (Regulation and Control) Rules, 2000, notified under the Environment (Protection) Act, 1986.

The circular by the Department of Forest, Ecology and Environment came after Chief Secretary P. Ravikumar sent a note to the Department following a meeting with Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Monday.

"The Chief Minister has directed that the rules and the Karnataka Government Order of August 13, 2002, shall be strictly implemented henceforth. All users of loudspeakers or public address systems should obtain written permission from the designated authority within 15 days," a note from the Chief Secretary said.

"Those who do not obtain permission should voluntarily remove the loudspeakers or they should be removed by the designated authority," the note said.

Committees will be formed at different levels to decide the application for loudspeaker or public address systems. The Committee in all Police Commissionerate areas will comprise the Assistant Commissioner of Police, jurisdictional Executive Engineer of the City Corporation and representative from the Pollution Control Board.

In all other areas, the Committee will comprise the Deputy Superintendent of Police, jurisdictional Tahsildar and a member from the Pollution Control Board. The Chief Secretary has pointed out the Supreme Court orders of July 18, 2005 and October 28, 2005, that directed all the designated authorities to implement the Noise Pollution (Regulation and Control) Rules, 2000.

The Rule 3 (1) of the Noise Pollution (Regulation and Control) Rules, 2000, has laid down the ambient air quality standard in respect of noise, the note said, adding that the rules also define that the "daytime" shall mean 6 am to 10 pm.

According to Rule 5 (1), loudspeaker or public address system shall not be used except after obtaining permission from the designated authority and Rule 5 (2) bars the use of loudspeaker or public address system or any sound-producing instrument at night time except in closed premises, subject to other conditions, the note added.

The circular defined closed premises as auditoria, conference room, community hall and banquet hall.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Man is eternally in search of new things. A new place to discover, a new subject to master and a new hobby to cherish are but a few examples. 'A new' has gained momentum in today's world given there are multiple options facilitated by a Google of information. Life in its simplest form is an evolution from a domain of doubt to a field of faith, and finally into to a tower of trust. Human mind views every single activity through these steps to help arrive at a final destination of happiness. In the beginning, fear always overtakes the excitement to know the unknown. Doubt creeps into the mind — either it usurps a plan or helps iron out all crease to master a plan. This depends upon the individual's mental strength. New exploration is a tentative start with the mind clouded in doubt.

Activities progress through logical steps. Faith is a factor where the person in search of the unknown leans upon the experience of another person, trusted or not. This is akin to blind faith, for example, what is stated in Google by unknown other browsers is accepted. Decisions are made; the experience of activity later may bring smiles to some, and keep smiles away by miles for others. — Prasanna S. Harihar in Deccan Herald

In soup for letting 6-yr-old run marathon

Cincinatti: A couple, who documents their family's athletic achievement on social media recently landed in hot water for encouraging their 6-year-old son to run a 26.2-mile marathon.

The couple, Kami and Ben Crawford routinely share their family's athletic exploits with their tens of thousands of fans on social media, but their latest challenge attracted more criticism than praise. Last week, the couple took to social media to post photos of their entire family running the Flying Pig Marathon in Cincinatti. There doesn't seem to be anything wrong with that picture, except for the fact that their youngest son, Rainier, is only 6-years-old and the Flying Pig Marathon is a whopping 26.2 mile run. The fact that he had to run for 8 hours and 35 minutes to finish the race was viewed by many as nothing less than torture for the young child.

World's tallest dog at 3 feet, 5.18 inches

Texas: A Texas family's 2-year-old Great Dane was dubbed the tallest dog in the world by Guinness World Records after being officially measured at 3 feet, 5.18 inches tall. Guinness announced Zeus, a dog belonging to Brittany Davis of Bedford, is now the holder of the record for tallest dog living (male). Davis said she received Zeus as a gift from her brother when the canine was only 8 months old.

"He's been a big dog since we got him, even for a puppy. He had huge paws," Davis told Guinness World Records. Davis said relatives suggested Zeus could be the world's tallest dog during a recent family gathering. "We didn't think that was even a possibility but once we measured him, we realized he probably was. We never thought we would own the largest living dog, " she said.

The tallest dog ever, coincidentally also a Great Dane named Zeus, stood at 3 feet and 8 inches tall. He died in 2014.

VOICE OF THE READER

An appeal to MCC Comr.

Sir,

Last year's monsoon rains had damaged almost all homes in and around N.R. Mohalla, particularly near Abul Kalam Azad Circle which connects to Mysuru - Bengaluru road.

I would like to bring to the notice of MCC Commissioner that repeated appeals to the Engineer and the Health Officer of MCC through WhatsApp texts to clear the storm water drains of silt and plastics, which blocks the smooth flow of rain water, did not yield any result.

Hence, I once again request the MCC Commissioner to instruct the officials concerned to act before the monsoon season starts and help us to have sleepful nights.

DCs asked to visit Taluks once a week

In a bid to take the Government closer to the masses, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai recently directed the Deputy Commissioners (DCs) of all districts to visit all Taluks at least once in a week and hold 'Grama Vastavya' (Village Stay) once in a month to address issues and also feel the pulse of the people.

Addressing the DCs through video-conferencing here on Sunday last, Bommai observed that the Government's image will take a beating if there is corruption and lethargy in governance.

Cautioning that the Government would not tolerate neither corruption nor official apathy at any level, Bommai asked the DCs to tackle corruption with an iron hand.

Reminding the officials that the Government's image cannot be put to stake in an election year, the CM asked the DCs to expedite the budgetary announcements so as to complete them within the set time-frame.

Pointing out that targets cannot be achieved if the officialdom stick on to working hours, Bommai wanted top officials such as DCs, Additional DCs, Assistant Commissioners and Tahsildars to devote time even beyond working hours for achieving targets.

Stressing on the need for speedy disposal of public files, Bommai exhorted officials to disprove the common public notion that mere submission of applications will not do.

Referring to the forthcoming monsoon season, the CM said the DCs must ensure that there are enough stocks of sowing seeds, fertilisers and other agricultural inputs.

Asking the officials to take necessary steps in case they foresee any shortage of farm inputs, he instructed them to take measures for earmarking lands for a burial ground in all villages.

Bommai also directed the officials to identify the required lands for various Government projects that have been announced, identification of 10 acres of land for construction of Goshalas in all districts, marking of lands for construction of houses for Nomadic tribes in 19 districts and to speed up construction of 7,000 class rooms, 100 Primary Health Centres (PHC) and building of over 4,000 Anganawadi Kendras.

Veterinary services at livestock owners' doorsteps soon

Call 1962 toll-free Emergency Response Centre

Mysuru, May 12 (GA&BCT)- Over nine Vet ambulances or Pashu Sanjeevini have reached Mysuru and will begin their service in the district soon. The focus will be on the bovine welfare in rural and semi-urban areas. The ambulances will also serve urban areas.

The State Government recently flagged off 70 veterinary mobile ambulances to provide emergency services to domestic animals at the doorsteps of farmers. Union Minister of Fisheries, Animal Husbandry and Dairying Parshottam Rupala and Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai launched the facility in Bengaluru recently.

Accordingly, Mysuru has got nine such Vet ambulances. Minister for Animal Husbandry Prabhu Chavan said 275 animal ambulances would be rolled out under a Central Government scheme and in the first phase, 70 ambulances have been delivered. The State has 290 lakh domestic animals including pets and on average one ambulance would provide services to one lakh animals.

The mobile veterinary services project would provide timely treatment on receipt of toll-free calls at 1962 at the doorstep of the livestock owner and help in maintaining the health of animals, increasing the productivity of animals.

When a distress call from the livestock owner is received at any time of the day at the 1962 Emergency Response Centre, basic details are collected and information is disseminated to the nearest ambulance. The ambulance along with the veterinary doctor and assistant will reach the doorstep of the livestock owner, assess the condition of the sick cattle and provide on-site treatment. In all, 12 kinds of medical facilities are available in the ambulances.

Running each of these vehicles will cost Rs. 16 lakh per annum and it will be managed under public-private partnership. Of the Rs. 50 crore needed to maintain the system, 40 percent will be provided by the State.

Each vehicle will have a veterinary doctor, an assistant and a driver, who will go to the doorsteps of farmers. The ambulance consists of a surgery unit, laboratory, scanning devices, a 250-litre capacity water tank, operation table weighing 200 kg, air conditioning facility, seating capacity for the veterinarian and staff, wash basin and a cupboard to keep the medical kit. The ambulances for animals are provided on the lines of vehicles for humans under the Health and Family Welfare Department. These ambulances will be of great help in the event of referral cases which cannot be attended by local veterinarians.

If it is an accident case or an emergency or an operation and beyond the capacity of a local vet, the ambulance is provided with expert veterinary care and necessary equipment. On receiving call seeking medical attention for their animals, an expert Vet, staff and equipment available in the ambulance, will rush to the spot to treat the animal.

10-acre Goshala at Ayarahalli

Under the Goshala scheme initiated by the State Government, each district will get a Goshala and for Mysuru, one is being set up at Ayarahalli village near Devalapura. 10-acre land has been identified and the Goshala is coming up with a budget of Rs. 1.85 crore and the works are expected to be completed soon. The State Government has released Rs. 53 lakh for the project and funds will be released in phases. There will be separate sections for stray cows, bovines that have sustained injuries in accidents, cattle seized by the Police and also that are being illegally transported. They will be provided fodder, water and medical care.

Five sectors identified for Asset Monetisation

Bengaluru, May 12- Following the footsteps of the Union Government for augmenting revenues, the State Government has identified five sectors for Asset Monetisation.

The move comes just two months after Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai had announced in the State budget that two public sector enterprises were in for disinvestment. As a prelude to the Asset Monetisation move, the Government has listed five Boards and Corporations — Karnataka Soaps and Detergents Limited (KSDL), Karnataka Silk Industries Corporation (KSIC), Karnataka Rural Infrastructure Development Corporation Limited (KRIDCL), Mysore Sales International Limited (MSIL) and Hatti Gold Mines Limited (HGML).

Asset Monetisation involves creation of new sources of revenue by unlocking of value of hitherto unutilised or underutilised public assets. The Government by taking the route of Asset Monetisation aims to ramp up its revenues and at the same time lessening the burden of running the State-run enterprises. There are altogether 79 Boards and Corporations other than those in the service sector, out of which 60 are said to be running in profit, while the rest are in losses. Taking note of the loss-making Boards and Corporations, the Government has resorted to disinvestment through Asset Monetisation and as a first step in this regard, there are plans to hand over these loss making units to private companies, according to sources.

Prior to taking this decision, the Government had engaged Darashaw & Company Private Limited to study pros and cons of disinvestment. The company which undertook a study of 15 Public Sector Units, recommended disinvestment in five of them. Accordingly, the Government is now mulling disinvesting 24 percent of its shareholdings in these units, while at the same time continue to have control over them.

Mysuru-Bengaluru 10-lane Economic Corridor

MP urges NHAI to solve safety issues

Certain landowners at Ramanagara were holding up construction work

Mysuru-Kodagu MP Pratap Simha during a meeting with NHAI Chairperson Alka Upadhyaya recently.

Mysuru, May 12 (BCT)- Highlighting the safety and aesthetics of the ongoing 10-lane Mysuru-Bengaluru Economic Corridor, Mysuru-Kodagu MP Pratap Simha has urged National Highways Authority of India (NHAI) to take immediate measures to pave the earthen shoulder with suitable impermeable material like concrete.

Meeting NHAI Chairperson Alka Upadhyaya recently, the MP said that he has noticed during his recent visit to the access-controlled Expressway that there is earthen shoulder (edge drop) next to the RCC drain, both in the main carriageway and the service road. The Expressway has a six-lane main carriage and two-lane service road on either side.

The MP expressed concern that there were chances of water logging due to blockage of water in the inlet drain that could result in the sinking of the earthen shoulder and prove to be hazardous to the commuters.

Also, during heavy rains, there could be high flow of water which could carry the soil from the earthen shoulder into the drain, causing silt deposits. This would not only reduce the capacity of the drainage system but facilitate the growth of vegetation which could in turn lead to maintenance issues. With rain, the soil particles are likely to spread on the road which might lead to skidding of vehicles.

The MP has urged the NHAI to provide the earthen shoulder with impermeable material like concrete which could help avoid problems and also enhance the safety.

LAND ISSUES

Pratap Simha has drawn the NHAI Chairperson's attention towards certain land acquisition issues that were still pending and requested her urgent intervention to solve the issues.

There were instances where landowners were holding up the construction work — Ravi and Siddaramaiah at Kenchanakuppe village in Ramanagara; Kempanna and Chandrakantha at Choramaranahalli, also in Ramanagara. One of the landowners along the Economic Corridor was preventing the construction of service roads, the MP said.

The delay in land acquisition may hinder the progress of the Highway works, Pratap Simha said. Also, there is a delay in shifting the Karnataka Power Transmission Corporation's EHT (extra high tension) line falling within the highway land at kilometre:134+100.

The MP has urged the Alka Upadhyaya to urgently look into the issues raised by him and direct the project officers to address the issues so that the works are completed at the earliest.

IMF's First Deputy MD Gita Gopinath in Mysuru for dad's 85th birthday

Gita Gopinath with her parents T.V. Gopinath and V.C. Vijayalakshmi at Sree Ayyappa Swamy Temple complex at the foot of Chamundi Hill, Mysuru, yesterday.

Mysuru, May 12 (BCT)- Mysuru-born Gita Gopinath, who is the First Deputy Managing Director — the number two official — at the International Monetary Fund (IMF), has come to her hometown Mysuru to celebrate her father T.V. Gopinath's 85th birthday.

Her father celebrated his birthday yesterday and Gita tweeted a family photo and said, "A great feeling to celebrate my father's 85th birthday with him and my mother." The internationally renowned economist is seen wearing a traditional saree in the photo along with her father and mother V.C. Vijayalakshmi, residents of Kuvempunagar, Mysuru.

Gita Gopinath was elevated to First Deputy MD's post from her earlier position of Chief Economist of IMF, the global financial lender.

Yesterday, the family visited the Lord Ayyappa Swamy Temple and Sri Krishna Temple at the foot of Chamundi Hill.

"We are touched by my daughter's gesture to come home for three days just for my birthday. We visited the temple yesterday at 6 am and performed special pujas. She will be going back to the US tomorrow," Gopinath told Star of Mysore this morning.

While many have appreciated Gita's gesture, others have lauded her and her family for keeping the traditions alive despite her holding a global position.

Varun Garg wrote, "One of the highest position holders in IMF, and look at the simplicity. That's what Indian culture teaches. Gems like Gita Gopinath are true influencers/ celebrities of the society."

Liquor merchants stage demo, seek abolition of online indenting

Mysuru, May 12 (PM&DM)- Seeking abolition of the online indenting system for procurement of liquor from State-owned Karnataka State Beverages Corporation Limited (KSBCL), liquor merchants and licence holders, under the banner of Mysuru-Chamarajanagar District Liquor Merchants Association, as part of a State-wide protest on different dates, staged a symbolic demonstration in front of KSBCL Depots in Hebbal Industrial Area and Koorgalli in city this morning.

Speaking during the demonstration in Hebbal, Association President S. Guruswamy, who is also the President of Federation of Wine Merchants Association of Karnataka, said that the online indenting system, introduced recently for procurement of liquor from KSBCL depots, had become too problematic for users. Wanting the Government to return to the old form of indenting which was user-friendly, he said that the timings for indenting too needs to be changed. Terming the current timing (9 pm to 9 am) as unscientific and irrational, Guruswamy wanted the timings to be fixed as 9 am to 6 pm.

Recalling that in the past, liquor stocks used to arrive at 4 pm itselfthough indents were placed at 1.30 pm, he said that several pleas to the Excise Minister and Excise Commissioner in this regard has fallen on deaf ears.

Noting that the Excise Minister has called a meeting of liquor merchants on May 16, Guruswamy said that they will be forced to shut down shops for one day after May 19, if their demands are not addressed at the meeting.

Later, the protestors submitted a memorandum containing their charter of demands to KSBCL Depot Manager N. Lokesh.

Association office-bearers K.P. Paramesh, R. Lakshman, K.S. Murali, Ramakrishnappa and others took part in the protest.

Cyclone Asani brings respite from heat

Temperature in Mysuru reduces by 5 degrees Celsius

Mysuru, May 12 (BCT)- Moisture-laden winds have checked the sudden rise in temperature in Mysuru district. The summer day temperatures have come down by over 5 degrees Celsius due to the effect of Asani cyclone originating in Bay of Bengal.

Though widespread rains were predicted as soon as Asani surfaced and 'yellow alert' was issued in places like Mysuru, Mandya, Bengaluru and Kodagu, the cyclone has weakened now. However, it has cooled down the air and people have heaved a sigh of relief.

The day temperature had gone up to 37 to 38 degrees Celsius last week, causing inconvenience. Frequent power cuts added to their woes. The easterly winds have brought down the temperatures.

As per the data released by Organic Farming Research Station at Naganahalli (OFRSN), a unit of India Meteorological Department (IMD), temperatures have started reducing from May 10 (Tuesday) as cool winds blew due to the Asani effect.

The maximum temperature on May 11 stood at 34 degrees Celsius and the temperatures for the next four days — till May 15 — will be at 33 degrees Celsius. Light to moderate rainfall may be expected from 11.5.2022 to 15.5.2022 in Mysuru district, says the forecast.

The impact of Cyclone Asani will reduce from Thursday (today) night onwards. But a sharp rise in mercury is not expected at the moment and temperatures will rise gradually after May 15, the weatherman has stated.

Ways of handling solid waste must change

Over 200 to 250 representatives from all over Mysuru are attending the workshop organised by Mysuru District Administration and the MCC at Hemavathy Auditorium of Administrative Training Institute (ATI) on Lalitha Mahal Road. The issue of Solid Waste Management (SWM) is of paramount importance for the protection of environment. Failure to address this in a satisfactory manner will cause air and water pollution, Justice Adi said, exhorting the officers and elected representatives to dispose of solid waste in a segregated and scientific manner.

All citizens should segregate waste (dry and wet) before giving it to the waste collectors. About 40 percent of waste comes from bulk generators and the officers and elected representatives must keep a track of how much waste is being collected and where the waste is being disposed of. "Penalty must be imposed if the waste is not properly collected and transported and it's imperative that all the SWM processing plants must function properly. Karnataka State Pollution Control Board must regularly inspect the water and air near the garbage processing plants," he added.

Awareness should be created among people regarding proper disposal of waste and awareness workshops should be conducted, he said. "Enough care must be taken to ensure that bio-medical waste is not mixed with municipal solid waste. Source composting has to be made mandatory for individual houses and gated communities by inserting necessary provisions in bylaws under SWM Rules," he said.

Mayor (in-Charge) Sunanda Palanetra presided. Deputy Commissioner Dr. Bagadi Gautham, MCC Commissioner G. Lakshmikantha Reddy, MCC Additional Commissioner M.J. Roopa and Health Officer Dr. D.G. Nagaraj were present.

The day-long workshop will feature a series of technical sessions including the one on SWM Rules 2016 by Justice Subhash Adi, home composting, community composting and segregation of waste at source by G. Vivek Bharadwhaj, Programme Manager, NIE-CREST and a session on construction and demolition waste management by M. Rajesh Kumar, R-LEEF Industries, Mysuru.

Cabinet expansion soon: BSY

Mysuru, May 12 (RKB&DM)- Even as it is unclear whether the BJP top brass will give nod for Karnataka Cabinet expansion, former Chief Minister B.S.Yediyurappa (BSY) asserted that the Cabinet expansion or reshuffle will happen soon.

Speaking to presspersons at a private hotel here this morning, Yediyurappa, who had stayed overnight in the city, said that Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai has just returned from Delhi after discussing with the BJP top brass.

Responding to a query on whether the entry of his son B.Y. Vijayendra, who is one of the State BJP Vice-Presidents, into the Cabinet is imminent, BSY said that the issue is left to the party leadership and he cannot say anything in this regard.

VV Market

Those who were waiting for the bus ran away soon after bricks started falling down. MCC staff, who arrived at the spot, were seen clearing the debris.

Vani Vilas Market, built in 1927, has about 100 shops and is a single storey building listed in heritage structures of city. MCC is its custodian. Following the structure getting weak, one of the gates was closed a few years ago.

Yesterday, the weather remained overcast for the whole day and light drizzle began in the evening, which continued the whole night bringing down trees and branches in many localities including T.K. Layout. Roads turned into small streams causing inconvenience to motorists.

A tree fell across Paduvana Road hindering movement of vehicles. MCC's Abhaya-3 team, which reached the spot, cleared the fallen tree and made way for smooth flow of traffic.

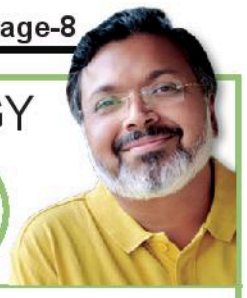
DECODING MYTHOLOGY



Dr. Devdutt Pattanaik - Author, Speaker, Illustrator, Mythologist

Sankhya and Yoga

Sankhya and Yoga form the building blocks of Indian philosophy. Sankhya means "enumeration." To understand this philosophy, we have to compare and contrast it with yoga. Yoga means "union" with "vi-yoga" meaning separation and "su-yoga" meaning "good alignment."

Now, when things are separated, you can list them into their constituent parts. And what is separated into its constituents can be brought together. Sankhya is analytics and is complemented by yoga which is synthesis. Sankhya is symbolised by an axe that cuts and yoga by a rope that binds.

In Sankhya, the measurable is separated from the non-measurable. The former is called purusha. The latter is called prakriti. The former transforms objects into organisms. The latter is the body of all things, objects and organisms. Purusha can be called spirit or consciousness or soul. Prakriti is material reality.

Matter comprises 18 things. This is the reason why many sacred Hindu texts use the number 18. For example, Mahabharata has 18 chapters. Gita has 18 chapters. The recurrence of the number 18 points towards the 18 constituents of the material world, as listed in Sankhya. These are the five elements — earth, fire, water, wind, sky or radiation. Then the five sense organs which sense the world around us — eyes, ears, nose, tongue, and skin. And then the five action organs with which we engage with the world — our hands, feet, genitals, mouth and anus. So, one can say these are the five raw materials, five input organs, five output organs, that makes it 15.

This is followed by the mind. The mind is where all information is stored, like the memory of computers. Then comes Buddhi, or intelligence, which can distinguish and evaluate all things stored in the mind by comparing one information with another. Finally comes Aham, the ego, our sense of self, based on assumptions, cravings, insecurities and knowledge. Aham determines how Buddhi should evaluate data received: what is pleasurable and what is painful, what is opportunity and what is threat.

Some have included an additional five to this list — ability to see, touch, hear, smell and taste. Others argue these cannot be separated from the sense organs. So 18 remains the major divisions of matter.

In yoga, you make yourself aware of these 18 elements in your body. After the act of analysis, you approach synthesis. To recognise that which is being joined becomes the purpose of yoga. If you don't know what has been split, you will not know what has been joined. This is the basics of Sankhya.

Note that Sankhya does not refer to any God or divine being. That is why Sankhya school was sometimes considered nastika or atheist. Buddhists saw purusha as a dependent, not an independent entity. It was dependent on the correct combination of matter. So what is called soul and consciousness has no independent entity. This is why Buddhism was also considered nastika, that which does not believe in the soul.

Others saw purusha as the divine being, that atma, the jiva. Still others argued that the divine being is beyond purusha and prakriti. This is found in Gita where Krishna says purusha and prakriti are his two wombs (yoni) by which he brings forth the world. Vedanta and Buddhist scholars debate about this even today endlessly using hair-splitting arguments.

Nurse loses Rs. 14.96 lakh in online work scam

Gundlupet, May 12 (KS)- A nurse, who fell for a message sent to her mobile phone which offered online work from home in return for thousands of rupees as earnings, has lost Rs. 14.96 lakh besides undergoing blackmail from those who had offered her online work.

Lalitha, a Staff Nurse at Gundlupet Government Hospital and a resident of Koudalli in Hanur taluk, is the one who has lost money in the online work scam.

Details: On Nov. 2, 2021, Lalitha received a message which stated "Work from home and earn up to Rs. 20,000 a month." To earn extra income, Lalitha responded to the message by replying to the number on WhatsApp.

Later, a woman, identifying herself as Yashika, Assistant Manager of an e-commerce company, called Lalitha over the phone and told her that she could earn from Rs. 500 to Rs. 5,000 daily through commission for products bought by international online shopping platform merchants.

As per Yashika's instructions, Lalitha got her name registered and had submitted all required details. Lalitha was then being sent online games for which she was asked to deposit money.

The fraudsters also sent her receipts mentioning that the commission money has been deposited to the bank account of one Suyoglalitha.

At one point of time, when Lalitha asked to return her money, no one responded following which Lalitha stopped sending WhatsApp messages to them.

Later, one Raashini called Lalitha on her phone and told her that she (Lalitha) had agreed for their conditions in her WhatsApp message and threatened of filing a case against her if she stopped the work in the middle.

Fearing Police case, Lalitha began to deposit money to the bank account numbers sent to her. She has so far deposited money via Google Pay, PayTM and Yono to the tune of Rs. 14,96,283.

When Lalitha again asked them to return her money, the fraudsters refused to pay her money back.

On learning that she has been duped, Lalitha, on May 5, lodged a complaint at Chamarajanagar Cyber, Economic and Narcotics (CEN) Crime Police Station.

Holenarasipur (Hassan), May 12- The elder brother of one of the accused candidate in the PSI exam scam that was unearthed recently, reportedly committed suicide by hanging self at his residence in Gunjevu village, Holenarasipur taluk of Hassan district late on Tuesday night.

The deceased is identified as G.R. Vasu, elder brother of PSI candidate G.R. Manukumar, who has been arrested by the CID which is probing the scam. Manukumar is said to have secured 50th rank in the exam held for recruitment of 545 PSIs. Vasu is said to have borrowed huge sums of money for enabling his younger brother to become a PSI. WORD OF THE DAY

Fractious

Pronunciation: FRAK-shus.
Meaning: Fractious means "troublesome," "unruly," "quarrelsome," or "irritable."
Origin: The Latin verb frangere means "to break or shatter" and is related to a few common words, which is evident in their meanings. Dishes that are fragile break easily. A person whose health is easily broken might be described as frail. A fraction is one of the many pieces into which a whole can be broken. But fraction also once meant "disharmony" or "discord"—that is, a "rupture in relations." From this noun sense came the adjective fractious.
Example: "The game became fractious, heavy tackles flying in, players squaring up to each other. The hostility spread." — Luke Edwards

THE ODD WORD

Faveolate

Honeycombed.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Full of beans

Meaning: The phrase 'full of beans' is used to say when someone is always full of vigour or merriness.
Origin: This phrase started out in the 14th century as "Full as Prunes" but then was changed to beans.
Example: "When he heard the news on the radio, Phillip was absolutely full of beans."

QUOTE BOX

Beans have a soul. —Pythagoras

Malabar's One India One Gold Rate offers lowest price in India

Bengaluru, May 12- As part of its One India One Gold Rate initiative, Malabar Gold & Diamonds, one of the largest jewellery retailers in the country, is offering the lowest gold rates in the country.

This initiative, introduced in 2020 by the leading Group, does away with the industry practice of selling gold at different rates in different States of the country. The lowest pricing of gold benefits customer dually as they stand to gain not just from lower gold rates but also the reduction in making charges which are fixed as a percentage of the gold rate.

The brand is able to offer this price advantage because it subscribes to a fair price policy which allows for transparent and reasonable pricing of products. Apart from assigning making charges starting from mere 4.9% onwards, Malabar Gold & Diamonds charges the exact same rate for gold across the country. This creates a situation of price difference for same 22 Kt gold across different States.

According to various market surveys, the price difference between the States with the highest gold rates and lowest rates in the country during Akshaya Tritiya was up to Rs. 350 per gram.

"We introduced the scheme to ensure the best prices to each customer, irrespective of their place of stay. As a responsible jeweller, we ensure that all the jewellery we sell is responsibly sourced, right from the mines till it reaches customers' hands," said Malabar Group Chairman M.P. Ahammed.

"Every jeweller sources gold from the same Government authorised entities at the same international rates and pay the exact same amount of taxes in the country. Still, the selling prices differ from market to market. It is important to do away with this practice and benefit the customers. There should be a strong tracking mechanism right from mining to manufacturing and sourcing to selling in this regard," he added.

The Malabar Group, always committed to ensure the highest standards and purity in gold, has made available a vast collection of ornaments in gold, diamond and silver, across its showrooms in the country in accordance with the tastes and choices of consumers.
